

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction	9
CHAPTER 1
The term bioethics	13
CHAPTER 2
Background	16
The Seattle committee	16
The Beecher article	17
The Barnard case	20
The Tuskegee case	22
Theological reflections	23
Anthropological and psychosomatic medicine	24
Other background information	27
CHAPTER 3
The evolution of scientific medicine	29
CHAPTER 4
Dialog as a foundation method	34
Management of discrepancies: a matter of contents or rules	38
The problem of pluralism is also a problem of knowledge	40
CHAPTER 5
The globalization of information and the meaning of the professions	44

CHAPTER 6
The problem of consensus and its legitimization	48
Observations on principlism (or principism)	50
CHAPTER 7
Fundamental principles	52
Autonomy	52
Non-maleficence	54
Beneficence	55
Justice	57
Other principles	60
CHAPTER 8
Certain areas of current work in bioethics	62
Reproductive health	62
Genetic engineering and cloning	65
The issue of death	66
Inequalities due to gender race and age.
Distribution of resources.	69
Mental health	70
Quality of life	73
The environment	74
Animal rights and animal well-being	75
Regulation of science and technology	76
CHAPTER 9
Methods in the field of bioethics. The committee as a meeting place for discussion.	78
Final comments	82
Recommended readings and information sources	84